CHINESE NEW YEAR LUCK CAME EARLY

A man from Kuala Lumpur won a whopping RM5 million on 17 January 2009 from playing Toto 6D game.

The winner said he had a palmist to thank for his new-found fortune. He sought a palmist's advice recently and was told that his children would bring him wealth luck. Since then, he had followed the palmist's advice and bet on numbers related to his children.

"When I bought a new watch for my son last November, I saw a serial number ie. 565323 engraved on its back, my instincts told me that would bring me wealth luck", he told the story behind the winning number.

Riding on the festive and prosperous mood of the coming Chinese New Year, he raised his bet on the number to RM50. He also credited his own persistence for getting the fortune as he continued with the bet for no less than 2 months. He is now RM5 million richer!

The lucky winner, self-employed, in his 40s, also took the winnings as a big fat Ang Pow from Sports Toto Malaysia as Chinese New Year is around the corner.

On how he would spend the prize money, he said he would invest some in properties and keep the rest in the bank for its interests.

A spokesperson from Sports Toto Malaysia confirmed that a single winner won the first prize of Toto 6D on 17 January 2009, Saturday (Draw no. 3117/09) with a total winning of RM5 million.
